Company Description:

Flexpac is a unit of use and trial size producer, offering turn-key service, providing vertically integrated services to enhance cost and time efficiencies. Flexpac and its affiliates have become industry leaders, producing sampling concepts and turn-key sample packages, and contract filling for leading brands around the world. Flexpac prides itself on offering high quality products, outstanding customer service, and the efficiencies of integration and globalization.

Flexpac designs and manufactures innovative, high quality sampling and unit of use packages for the cosmetic, fragrance, personal care and OTC markets. In addition they offer contract filling services for bottles, tubes, jars and vials. Flexpac offers a full line of sampling products, including proprietary and patented formats.

Flexpac is an affiliate of Socoplan, a subsidiary of the Ileos Group. Together they produce more than 1 billion samples annually, which generates more than $60 million in revenue.

The companies operate four manufacturing facilities in the United States and Europe, employing more than 500 people. The plants are FDA registered in the United States and ISO 9002 certified in Europe.
